Astrid Chevallier moved to Los Angeles in 2002. The French graphic designer and singer / songwriter released her first album, So Far, My Love, in June 2006. Like a trip to the internal universe of the singer, the L.P. wavers between rock and electropop, guitars, and machines. After a concert at the Lava Lounge on January 18, Astrid Chevallier is getting ready to release a music video directed by Fanny Jean-Noël on her MySpace page.
